Warsaw, December 6. N. S.

TWO days ago arrived here an Expreſs from Prince Sapiha, Great General of Lithuania, and brought an account, That after having treated with ſome of the great Men, who took part with the Confederated Troops in that Dutchy, and having prevailed with them to come over to his ſide, in order to reſtore the Peace and Quiet of the Country, the ſaid Confederated Troops had likewiſe ſubmitted, upon Conditions mutually agreed on, to wit, That there ſhould be a general Amneſtie of all that is paſt; That the Confederacy ſhould be diſſolved; That none of thoſe that were concerned in it, ſhould on that account be moleſted for the future; That they ſhould forthwith be paid half of their Arrears; That they ſhould not enter into any Confederacy hereafter; And ſhould obey the Orders of the Great General: This Agreement being Signed on both ſides, it was put in Execution the 27th of the laſt Month, when the Chief Officers of the Confederated Troops waited on Prince Sapiha, and made their Submiſſion to him at the Head of the Forces he had cauſed to be drawn together for this Occaſion. Matters being thus accommodated in Lithunia, the Example will in all likelihood be quickly followed by the Confederated Troops in Poland, who meet with great difficulties in providing themſelves with Winter Quarters, and begin to be made uneaſie by the Diſagreement of ſome of their Principal Commanders. The Queen, ſince her Reconciliation with Prince James her Son, does not only endeavour all ſhe can to ſupport his Intereſts, but has ſhewed a publick Reſentment of the Proceedings of the French Ambaſſador, who labours to promote the Election of the Prince of Conti, and ſhe has written to the French King, to complain of the little regard that is now had to the many Promiſes and Aſſurances of Friendſhip and Aſſiſtance which the late King and his Family received from the Court of France. The Tartars that made the laſt Incurſion into the Country about Lembergh, and continued afterwards for ſome time in the Neighbourhood of Caminiec, are ſince retired to Budziac.

Vienna, December 15. The Officers of the Imperial Troops are commanded to have their Companies and Regiments compleat by the end of March at fartheſt: Great proviſion is made of Bombs and Ammunition for the Service of the next Campaign; and Commiſſaries are ſent to Repleniſh the Magazines in Hungary. The Envoy from Moſcovy aſſures this Court, That the Czar his Maſter is reſolved to proſecute the War againſt the Turks and Tartars the next year, with all the Force he can draw together; and that he has ordered a great number of Veſſels to be built, with which he deſigns to enter into the Black Sea, and annoy the Turks, who lie very open on that ſide; and the Letters we receive from Turkey ſay, theſe Preparations of the Moſcovites do very much allarm the People at Conſtantinople. The laſt Letters from the Frontiers of Hungary brought nothing material, beſides an account of ſome Excurſions made by ſmall Parties on both ſides. The Turks have a very ſtrong Gariſon at Belgrade, and ſeem ſtill to have an eye upon Titul; but at the ſame time care is taken to Fortifie the Place; and the German Troops in thoſe Parts do carefully watch the Enemies Motions. They work on the new Fortifications of Peter-Waradin as faſt as the Weather will permit; and Count Guido of Staremberg, who commands all the Emperor's Forces on that Frontier, and has his Reſidence at Eſſecke, has Fortified ſeveral ſmall Places between the Rivers Save and Drave, for the Security of the Country againſt the Enemies Excurſions. Prince Lewis of Baden is expected here after the Chriſtmas Holy Days.

Francfort, Decemb. 23. The French by the Preparations they make at Philipsburg, Landau, and other Places near the Rhine, ſeem to have a Deſign of paſſing that River, and making an Incurſion into the Country of Wirtemberg; and upon theſe Advices, Orders are given to Poſt ſeveral German Regiments in ſuch Places as are moſt proper for diſappointing any Attempt they may make of this kind. Ten of the Imperial Regiments, which return from Italy, are it's ſaid, to have their Winter Quarters in or the Empire, that they may be ready for the next Campaign there.

Cologne, Decem. 25. A Party of the Brandenburg Troops quartered in this Dioceſs, made ſome few days ago an Excurſion into the Country of Lemburgh, and brought back with them
